Purpose: ISB Network Foundation is a non-profit organization, dedicated to bringing Alumni of the International School of Bangkok together to support, maintain and create contact between people who shared similar experiences in Thailand.

Dues & Benefits: Dues are paid on a bi-annual basis of $40.00 and is tax deductible. Members receive three newsletters per year and an annual Alumni Directory.

These dues help fund the activities performed by the all-volunteer Board of Directors responsible for maintaining the database, publishing the newsletters and directories, maintaining presence on the web and planning the bi-annual reunions.

To join, go to www.isbnetwork.com. Upon joining you will begin receiving the newsletter and the most recent edition of the Directory. The Directory is not for commercial use.

ISB Network Foundation Officially Recognized by the IRS as a Non-Profit Organization – Your Dues Are Now Tax Deductible

Thanks to the persistent efforts of ISB Network Board Member and Treasurer, Todd Lockhart '77, and his brother Tim Lockhart '75, a Board Advisor, the ISB Network Board is excited to announce that the ISB Network Foundation has been granted official 501(c)(3) charitable status by the IRS.

The ISB Network Foundation was formally incorporated on March 25, 2003. The big hurdle then became obtaining recognition from the IRS as a public charity. On October 29, 2003, the IRS consented, and declared that the Foundation had met all the requirements for tax-exempt charitable status, retroactive to the March 25th incorporation date. So anyone who paid dues since that date can deduct their payments as a charitable donation. Dues paid prior to March 25, 2003 are NOT deductible.

Many Rewards to Being a Class Rep for the ISBN

By Debby Stinemetz Caulfield '70

I began my career as a Class Representative reading telephone books. It was 1990 and fellow Class Rep Mark Brougham called me out of the blue, informing me of an upcoming reunion in San Antonio, which would coincide with the Class of 70's twentieth anniversary.

I was spurred to action to find old friends and to reunite with them in Texas. I ran to the nearest library and pored through the white pages of metropolitan phone books (no internet then). I then began dialing. Ninety-nine point nine percent of those phone calls led to dead ends, but in the process I talked to many strangers at the end of wrong phone numbers who expressed excitement and encouragement for someone trying to locate long lost alumni from an international school in a far away country during a tumultuous American war. I knew then that being a Class Rep was a noble calling and I have been one ever since.

We need more Class Reps and I encourage you to become one. It is not a hard job and it comes with many personal rewards. Each Class Rep brings a different level of expertise,

Welcome to the Class Rep Corner

In each issue we hope to showcase 1 to 2 Class Reps or Coordinators, sharing their insights and ideas and simply getting to know a little more about them. In this issue, we are focusing on Class Coordinator (1970-1974); Debby Stinemetz Caulfield and 1994 Class Rep; Brian Helmick.

When I arrived in Bangkok the summer of 1968, I was one of the “boring” ISBers. My father’s employer, the Marine Corps, which barely even recognized family members, had detailed him AND his family to a first-time-ever overseas tour.

My first airplane ride landed me at a high school teeming with interesting young people. There were the State Department kids who had lived for multiple years in multiple countries I could barely locate on a globe. There were the missionary kids whose first language was Thai who boarded in Bangkok during the school year and lived up-country during the holidays. Then there were the international kids whose parents worked for their countries’ governments or businesses.

I was wide eyed with excitement and curiosity to be surrounded by such a worldly, multi-cultured group of people. There were a few other “boring” ISBers like myself who were forever changed by this experience.

After graduation from ISB I looked for every opportunity to keep myself in the company of people like my fellow ISBers. I delayed college and ended up in Europe working as an au pair. I directed my husband to take every overseas tour his Air Force career offered. I took my two children on camping trips in many lands where they took diversity for granted. (They both ended up majoring in Geography!)

When I returned to the States I added English as a Second Language certification to my teaching credentials and surrounded myself with foreign students and their families. Now that I am retired in the foothills of Virginia and don’t travel as extensively as I would like, I find myself reaching out to old and new ISB friends whose biographies and experiences continue to delight and enlighten me.

“Don’t think twice about showing up to the reunion in August 2004. It is going to be ridiculously fun and memorable.”

I arrived in Bangkok a few days after Christmas Day 1990. I was coming in mid-way through my freshman year of high school and was psyched to be living in Asia. My parents were diplomats with the U.S. Embassy so we had lived all over, but this was our first time in Asia. When the semester started in January, I was in school for about a week before school was cancelled “indefinitely” due to risks associated with the Gulf War. School started a month or so later, which included classes every other Saturday and a police escort to and from school, among other things. Not what you would consider the beginning of a typical school experience, but it turned out to be 2-1/2 unforgettable years.

Some random memories that come to mind include, but are not limited to, transitioning to the new school, protesting about the school’s decision on Castledine, many a Bangkok nights (Goldfinger’s, Vibrations, Taurus, etc.), and producing Sports and Earth Day videos. Other memories are related to people such as John Donaldson carrying his books in an empty cement sack for a semester, Michael Hung telling every single girl that “her eyes were flaming with passion,” and Danny Jhangiani’s mysterious car accident caused by a female distraction . . . or was it a bee?

Postcard from Cannon Beach, Oregon – Aug. 10, 2003

Dear ISB'ers:

Wow, are we having the greatest time ever! This place is so beautiful with a wide beach, gorgeous sunsets, scenic drives, and a charming town with art galleries, seafood galore, and wonderful weather. Huge thanks to Ellen Ehle Schaefer '62 and husband Dennis, the i/net guru, who did a wonderful job of organizing us, both before and during the weekend.

Thursday, most people arrived and we met for dinner at Mo's, which is right next to our hotel. Considering that the 21 of us took over about one-quarter of the restaurant, played musical chairs, and leaped up and down to greet newcomers, the staff served us efficiently, without complaints or at least none that we heard. It might have been different in the kitchen! Marcia Klamm Leavitt '63 and husband, Les, offered their suite for post-dinner gathering where our catching up began in earnest.

Friday, we met for breakfast, again at Mo's, but thankfully for the staff, in smaller more manageable groups. Various activities were undertaken including a trip to Costco for hot dog roast supplies, souvenir shopping in Cannon Beach, and an educational trip to Ft. Clatsop, where Lewis and Clark spent the winter after they "found" the Pacific. Of course with the beautiful weather, the beach, and the Haystack Rock tide pools beckoned as well. By Friday afternoon, our number swelled to 28!

Since Cannon Beach's relaxed philosophy allows fires on the beach, we selected a fire pit early in the day for our dinner gathering. Noel Ragsdale '62 mixed her famous Margarita Queens, which definitely gave the evening a more festive start, as well as Gail Loudermilk Kirk's '61 and Ellen Ehle Schaefer's '62 Lemon Drops! The sunset could not have been better! We successfully roasted hot dogs and marshmallows on professionally crafted sticks provided by Bob Gleason '62 – maybe not the most nutritious meal of our stay, but certainly the most fun. It wasn't Pattaya, but almost.

Saturday, breakfast was a scattered affair, with several people finding the nice cafes in town. After researching various restaurant options for Saturday dinner (they wanted us there at 5pm!), Tom Slemons '59 & Sherry and Tom McGlasson '61 & Susie generously offered their suite for a cook in. Since Cannon Beach is a seafood haven, we decided to buy 15 pounds of wild salmon, which was baked in three different sauces. Thanks to Marcia Klamm Leavitt '63 for use of the second oven! What a feast and no waiters, no bill sorting, no shushing because we were too loud. It was the best!

After dinner, we had a beach bonfire and roasted the last of our marshmallows for dessert. Unfortunately, some small person reduced most of our sticks to toothpicks earlier in the day, but we improvised. Again, we had a wonderful star-filled evening.

Sunday, Mo's hosted us yet again, but this time there were long faces and dragging lips. Time to say goodbye always comes too soon, we think. But, as Ellen Ehle Schaefer wrote: "To all who could not make it this time, you were with us in spirit. There is magic in that after 40+ years, ISB friendships have been forged, strengthened, and endured. We share such a unique experience; as time passes, tightening the bonds that hold us together seems more important than ever." My postscript is to you more recent ISB'ers: You have wonderful times to which to look forward; don't let them slip away! See you in St. Pete in 2004.

Brian's 9th grade photo, 1991 Erawan

I left Bangkok at the end of my junior year of high school and finished high school in the Dominican Republic. After college in Florida and working on Wall Street for a few years, I have recently gone back to school. I just started my MBA program at Stanford this past September. I seem to be reminded of ISB wherever I go. Not only is it amazing that Lewis Cheng and Matt Huang, fellow Stanford MBA first year students, were also in the same class at ISB with me but we all live just doors from each other in the same hall at our on-campus residence hall. I look forward to my two years in California.

I got involved with getting people pumped about the reunion after running into Christian Reiss at a random Halloween Party in New York. We got to talking and realized that we were about to be 10 years out of high school. After a quick text search, we came across the ISB Network site and have been trying to get in touch with people to ensure a record turnout for our class at the Florida ISB Reunion August 2004. We also wanted to get started early in hopes that the message regarding the reunion would get to everyone in time to make travel plans.

So to all the 1994 peeps . . . don't think twice about showing up to the reunion in August 2004. It is going to be ridiculously fun and memorable. If you attend and don't remember the reunion, it will probably be because you had too much fun. No worries. We'll make sure to have digital cameras to document any memory lapses.

ISBer Killed in Plane Crash

It is with tremendous sadness that we report that Albert "Kip" Schaaf '65 lost his life in a plane crash September 25th in St. Lucie County, Florida. He was 56.

The crash occurred at 1:26 PM about three miles northwest of the St. Lucie County International Airport. According to the FAA, the plane took off from the airport on a test flight and was scheduled to return without stopping. The plane crashed into a row of pine trees near about 100 commercial beehives. The bees hampered initial rescue efforts.

Kip was pronounced dead at the scene. The pilot, John Russell, was injured in the crash and taken to the hospital. He was released the next day. Another passenger, Jon Anderson, died in the hospital the next day.

Kip was an airline pilot for Southwest. He and Jon Anderson were longtime friends and classmates at the U.S. Military Academy at West Point.

"Kip was a great guy and a wonderful friend. From the time Kip discovered the ISB Network in 1993 he missed only one reunion (Long Beach '98) and that was to attend captains' school for Southwest airlines," commented David Wilkerson. "Kip was instrumental in getting former teen club band members from 'The Sonics' to reunite and play at the R2K reunion. His dream to locate all original members and have them perform at a reunion will hopefully live on and come to fruition. He will be sorely missed."

The funeral service was held October 11th at the Catholic Chapel at Newman Hall, Holy Spirit Parish near UC Berkeley.

Kip is survived by his brother Tim and his mother Barbara.

Join the Fun! Become a Class Rep!

By Ralph Weber '79

The front line (foot soldiers) of the ISB Network is the Class Reps and the Class Coordinators. We are dedicated to finding lost ISB alumni who have shared common experiences in Thailand, and providing a forum for them to interact.

Class Rep

The Class Rep is a volunteer position. Each graduating class may have any number of class reps (larger classes usually have more reps). The function of the Class Rep is to act as a liaison with members of their class year. Class Reps are actively involved in finding missing alumni and encouraging them to join the ISB Network. They occasionally coordinate special events for class members such as "mini reunions," Web chats or clubs, or any private non-Network-wide event as appropriate. They also maintain contact with their classmates, especially in the 6 months leading up to an official reunion. Class Reps forward new mail, email, or addresses of found alumni to the ISB Network database manager as they are obtained.

It doesn't really take a lot of time. Basically you do 3 things as a Class Rep.

1. When an alumni finds the ISB Network through our website and writes us, I pass the email to the Class Rep, and you, in turn, get in touch with the individuals and welcome them. You tell them about reunions, and about the Network and encourage them to join. This takes MAYBE 1-2 emails a month, and I'm estimating high.
2. Some of the more eager Class Reps actively try to find classmates. One of the best ways I've found is www.classmates.com. I list myself there with my email address and whenever new people list themselves, I get an email. I respond and encourage them to join, etc. Another one or 2 emails a month.

3. Periodically Class Reps request a list of classmates from the Network's Database Manager and send out an email just to keep them all informed. Your fellow classmates usually end up making you aware of 1-2 new classmates per month, too.

So we're talking about 3-6 emails per month and maybe the odd extra one just before the reunion.

Class Coordinator

The Class Coordinator is an appointed position. Each Class Coordinator represents 5 graduating classes as follows: 60-64, 65-69, 70-74, etc. There should be a minimum of 2 class coordinators per 5-year period. Class coordinators are responsible for the duties of the Class Reps listed above, plus the following additional duties:

1. Class Coordinator's primary function is to identify potential class reps, and pass their names to the director of class reps. The class coordinator will keep in touch with his/her class reps, train and support them and keep in active contact with them. The class coordinator will recruit, develop and train class reps for their 5 year period.
2. Class Coordinators contribute updates for the ISB Network newsletter on the activities of their classes on a rotation basis.
3. At official ISB Network reunions, Class Coordinators set up a central gathering place and/or hospitality suite to welcome alumni from the 5 class years they have been assigned to.
4. Class Coordinators actively search for missing ISB alumni.

5. They provide feedback on all aspects of ISB Network activities received from alumni.
6. Class Coordinators stay in touch by email, snail mail, phone, or any other means available with their classmates and Class Reps at least once every 6 months.

The function of the Class Rep is to act as a liaison with members of their class year and are actively involved in finding missing alumni.

Class Coordinators are responsible for the duties of the Class Reps and represent 5 graduating classes (for example, 60-64, 65-69, 70-74, etc.)*

Plans Are Shaping up for the 2004 Reunion, Have You Registered Yet?

Plans are firming up for the 2004 reunion in St. Pete's Beach, Florida, and we are thoroughly expecting a record turnout! Our reunion planner, Deb Twing Thomson '72 has been hard at work behind the scenes and says she's excited about the plans for our "Incredible Summer Bash" reunion. "With the hotel located right on the beach AND in the heart of the town of St. Pete's Beach, everything we need is just a few steps away."

There won't be any buses to take us to our Thursday night "optional" Thai dinner this time around since we found a great Thai restaurant that's just a 5-minute walk from the hotel. Seating is limited so don't forget to let us know if you plan on joining us.

After the "Welcome" cocktail party on Friday night, alumni can play glow in the dark volleyball on the beach, dine at any number of seaside restaurants, and later that evening come by our hospitality suite to mingle or dance away the night. There's also a swimming pool located next to the suite, so if you simply want to hang out and swim, the pool is ours all night long.

Saturday's house games have a new twist this year, as we plan on holding them on the beach and in the ocean. Also, we are looking for a volunteer to handle the arrangements for our golf tournament this year. Anyone interested in coordinating and running the golf tournament please contact Deb Twing Thomson at dmt@cruzers.com. After the Saturday night banquet ends, the hospitality suite will re-open for anyone who wants to party the night away.

And of course, we also plan to continue our popular tradition of having a "Teen Club" room. We have a special surprise in store for a couple of hours on Friday night. After that the room will be available for our diversely talented alumni to drop by and jam. Don't forget to bring your instruments if you want to play. We will provide the standard sound equipment.

Additionally, we are pleased to announce that we are able to extend the cut-off date for the "Early Bird" reunion registration fee through February 29, 2004. After that the registration fee schedule will be:

Fees received between March 1, 2004 and July 31, 2004:

$150 for ICC/ ISB Alumni/Faculty $140 for Spouse/Friend $130 for Parent/ Child

From August 1, 2004 through "Walk-in" registration the fees:

$170 for ICC/ ISB Alumni/Faculty $160 for Spouse/Friend $150 for Parent/ Child

We encourage everyone to pay the registration fees online through PayPal at www.isbnetwork.com.

For those of you preferring to pay your reunion fees with a personal check, please complete the form located at the end of this newsletter and mail it with your payment to:

Ask to be transferred to the Conference Reservation Department. Be sure to let them know that you are making a reservation at the Island Grand Resort under the group name "International School Bangkok/ISB Network Reunion."

The 2004 Reunion is going to be an Incredible Summer Bash so we recommend you book early to take advantage of the lower registration fee.

2002 Reunion Reunites H.S. Sweethearts After 33 Years

Wedding bells rang on October 15, 2003, for Lyn McKenna '70 and Mike Colwell '70 after reuniting 14 months earlier during the 2002 ISB Network Reunion. Mike had only found out about the ISB Network two weeks prior to the 2002 reunion. He went online and looked for Lyn's name on the "Look Who's Attending" List. When he saw she would be there, he made plans to attend the reunion. No one knew he was coming so it was a complete shock for Lyn to see him. "The minute we looked into each other's eyes we fell madly back in love," said the ecstatic bride, Lyn McKenna Colwell.

Lyn's best friend, Judy Catlin Bouchard (Class of '70) and her husband were with the happy couple as they exchanged their vows at sunset in Key Largo. As an extra special gesture, Judy's husband Steve became a Notary Public just so he could perform the ceremony. It was truly a private ceremony with just the four of them—a ceremony Mike and Lyn wrote themselves—flowers flown in from Hawaii—and lots of champagne! They are blissfully happy and living in Folsom, CA.

Many Rewards to Being a Class Rep

energy, and background to the job and the more people we have working, the bigger and stronger the Network becomes. The original founders of ISBN knew exactly what they were doing when they called our alumni association a Network. I have listed what I believe are the responsibilities and the rewards of being a Class Rep.

Searching for Lost Alumni When I first started out I mostly looked for my friends. Then I became an equal opportunity searcher adopting the belief that all ISBers deserve to be found. Most lost alumni are found through networking but then some of our Class Reps have special sleuthing skills and have quite a record of finding some well hidden individuals. The reward: There is nothing like putting a long-lost alum in touch with old friends. You will feel like a merry matchmaker.

Promoting Class Camaraderie This is easy. Stay in regular touch with your classmates. Reach out especially to those who have recently been found and encourage attendance at the reunions and membership in the Network.

The reward: Maintaining old friendships and developing new ones.

Welcoming New Attendees at Reunions I have added this as one of our newer responsibilities because our reunions are getting to be very large. For many new reunion attendees it is terrifying to walk into a huge party and feel comfortable. The more years between high school and a reunion experience the more difficult. Basically be the ISB Welcome Wagon at the reunions. The reward: Do you remember how wonderful your first reunion experience was? Help someone else have the same experience.

Contact Ralph Weber (isbralph@routethree.com) about becoming a Class Rep. I have compiled a list of ideas and suggestions from many of our Reps and will share them with you to help get you started. Remember that someone found you and got you involved with the Network. Some lost ISBer is out there just waiting for you to bring him/her into the fold.

ISB Network Supports AOSHS

The mission of the American Overseas Schools Historical Society is to collect, record, and preserve the unique history of educating American children and youth abroad; and to enhance public knowledge, understanding, and appreciation of the contributions made by American educators and their students in the advancement of democracy around the world.

Plans call for its Corporate Headquarters (located in Wichita, Kansas) to include a landscaped Historical Park with a visitor's center, existing archives, a museum, and memorials of overseas schools, alumni associations, educators, and students. The Historical Park will serve as a global village for American educators and their students from every state and territory in the union. It will:

1. Honor and recognize the sacrifice, dedication and service to the United States by educators, students, and families from every state and territory in the union, and
2. Recognize contributions American students and educators have made, and are making, in advancing American ideals and democracy abroad.

The architect's model of the complex can be seen on their website:

www.aoshs.org

The courtyards and walkways at the Historical Park will consist of bricks, blocks, and pavers, which have been purchased by individuals in their own name, as a gift for a friend, or in memory of a friend or loved one. The ISB Network has purchased a paver in recognition of all of us who ever attended ISB.

Proceeds from this project will go toward an endowment for continued maintenance of the entire beautification program and toward the creation of a scholarship fund benefiting graduates of overseas schools.

Dues Are Now Tax Deductible

“Clearly, the 501(c)(3) status for the Foundation marks a profoundly new direction for the ISB Network,” commented Todd Lockhart. “On the surface, or at least from the viewpoint of our members, very little will change. We will still hold our reunions every two years, maintain an alumni directory and website, and issue newsletters to our members. But we now have a way to dramatically expand our ISB Network Cares scholarship program, and at the same time provide our members with a tax deduction in return for their generous support of these activities.”

Inspired by David Wilkerson '71, former CEO of the ISB Network Association, the first $1,000 ISB Network Cares scholarship was awarded to Miss Pudthila Srisontisuk, during a student/alumni assembly at the ISB 50th anniversary celebration in January 2002. “It was a dream come true to be able to award a scholarship to an ISB student of Thai decent,” commented David Wilkerson. “It was, after all, the beautiful country of Thailand and its warm and friendly people that embraced us all in our youth. The ISBN Cares Scholarship gave us the vehicle to give a little something back to the Thai people.”

Any Thai student attending ISB, or ISB student of Thai descent, is eligible for this award. A committee of ISB faculty advisors nominates and selects the scholarship recipient. “Now that we have the charitable Foundation in place, we hope to significantly expand the Scholarship program, to reach more deserving Thai students, and to give back in ever increasing ways to Thais seeking an ISB education,” adds Lockhart.

The original ISB Network was structured in what the IRS calls a “Social Club” format. The Network is considered a tax-exempt organization, but it does not have charitable status. Without charitable status, it would have been difficult, if not impossible, to sustain charitable activities like the Scholarship program. Lockhart explains, “We now have two organizations running the ISB Network affairs: the original ISB Network and the ISB Network Foundation. To ensure consistency and coordination of all of our activities, both organizations have identical Board composition. Simply put, the Network will run the reunions, and the Foundation will run everything else. The same set of Board members, wearing two different hats, will put it all together.”

Because the reunion is not a charitable activity, your reunion registration fees are not tax deductible.

More details about the new tax status of the ISBN Foundation will follow after the Board has an opportunity to meet and formalize the exciting plans in store for this organization. Details will be posted on our website as they become available.

In the meantime, we encourage those of you interested in lending your financial support to send your check payable to the ISB Network Foundation at P.O. Box 7454, Alexandria, Virginia 22307. You can give back to the country and the school that unites us all, and give yourself a tax break at the same time.

2003 Alumni Directory Now on CD-Rom

The 2003 ISB Network directory is now available on CD-Rom and has been mailed to all ISBN members.

If you have not yet received yours, please let Maile know. If you don't have a computer, or your computer doesn't have a CD-Rom drive, please contact Maile and she will arrange to have a printed copy mailed out to you. You can call her at (949) 673-4632 or send her an e-mail at mailebusby@msn.com.

The Board thanks you for your support and hopes you accept this new format as it greatly reduces our operating costs.
